The Royal Society Journals

Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society A: Mathematical, Physical and Engineering Sciences

Publishes themed issues, all devoted to a specific, topical area. Covers all aspects of the physical sciences with a particular emphasis on nanotechnology; environmental change and renewable energy; dynamical systems and complexity; and biophysics, biological mathematics and medical engineering.

rsta.royalsocietypublishing.org

Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society B: Biological Sciences

Publishes themed issues, all devoted to a specific, topical area of the biological sciences. Covers all areas of biology, with a particular emphasis on neuroscience and cognition; organismal, environmental and evolutionary biology; molecular, cellular and developmental biology; and biomedical science.

rstb.royalsocietypublishing.org

Proceedings of the Royal Society A: Mathematical, Physical and Engineering Sciences

Publishes high-quality research articles in all areas of the physical sciences. Emphasis on original and fundamental articles of interest to a wide range of scientists, in emerging and interdisciplinary areas, as well as established disciplines.

rspa.royalsocietypublishing.org

Proceedings of the Royal Society B: Biological Sciences

Proceedings B is the Royal Society's flagship biological research journal, dedicated to the rapid publication and broad dissemination of high-quality research papers, reviews and comment and reply papers. The scope of the journal is diverse and is especially strong in organismal biology.

rspb.royalsocietypublishing.org

Biology Letters

Biology Letters publishes short, innovative and cutting-edge research articles and opinion pieces accessible to scientists from across the biological sciences. The journal is characterised by stringent peer-review, rapid publication and broad dissemination of succinct high-quality research communications.

rsbl.royalsocietypublishing.org

Journal of the Royal Society Interface

Publishes cutting-edge cross-disciplinary research from the interface between the physical and life sciences. Applies research from the physical sciences to the biological and medical sciences and highlights discoveries in the life sciences that allow advances in the physical sciences.

rsif.royalsocietypublishing.org

Interface Focus NEW

Devoted to a particular subject at the interface of the physical and life sciences. Formed of high-quality articles, topics may be newly emerging areas of research or dynamic aspects of more established fields.

rsfs.royalsocietypublishing.org

Notes and Records of the Royal Society

Publishes papers on the history of science.

rsnr.royalsocietypublishing.org

Biographical Memoirs of the Royal Society

An annual compilation of around 20 to 25 Memoirs of deceased Fellows of the Royal Society. A fascinating compendium of the human side of scientific success and accomplishment.

The Royal Society Digital Journal Archive

Reliable article linking for the entire archive

We are pleased to announce that all articles in our journal archive, from 1665 to today, now have a Digital Object Identifier (DOI). Please visit royalsocietypublishing.org/info/archive

The Royal Society Digital Journal Archive, dating back to 1665 and containing more than 65,000 articles is now available online and is FREE to all subscribers of the Royal Society's new journal subscription packages.

The Royal Society Digital Journal Archive is easily the most comprehensive archive in science and contains some of the most significant scientific papers ever published.

The development of this digital resource means that the Society's online collection now contains every paper ever published in the Royal Society's journals - from the very first peer-reviewed paper in Philosophical Transactions in 1665 to the most recent interdisciplinary article in Journal of the Royal Society Interface.

Seminal research papers include accounts of Michael Faraday's groundbreaking series of electrical experiments, Isaac Newton's invention of the reflecting telescope and the first research paper published by Stephen Hawking.

This impressive and innovative scientific resource is FREE to anyone subscribing to our new journal packages.
