ADDENDUM

Session 8 is a Unconference on the topic of Scholarly Communication, and the implications of Open Access for libraries and consortia. As a basis for discussion, 4 questions have been formulated for attendees to read and consider.

These questions are:

1. How will scholarly communication possibly change over the next 15 years? How will an article or a book look like? How will a publication be created and disseminated over 15 years?
2. What will be the role of today's established scholarly publishers? Who are they going to serve the most: the reader or the author?
3. Is Open Access unavoidable? Is Toll Access sustainable?
4. Which role will libraries play in the scholarly communication of the future? Are they still needed for getting access to publications/information? Will they be instrumental in giving access to publications/information?

The traditional rules of a Unconference are:

- Whoever comes are the right people;
- Whatever happens is the only thing that could have;
- Whenever it starts is the right time;
- When it is over, it is over.
